Holidays worth sharing

Promoting Ventures

Each year over 4,000 children and young people experience a life changing holiday with Ventures.

We welcome more and more new young people each year because they hear about the fantastic opportunity to have a great time on one of our Ventures. You could play a vital role in providing more children and young people with the opportunity to explore the Bible and discover Jesus on Venture holidays.

We want as many people as possible to enjoy these life-changing holidays. Who knows where your invitation could lead?

Top tips

Pray!

Prayer is an essential part of whatever you do, and a great place to start. Pray about how you can help to promote Ventures, and continue to pray for all the families and young people you're able to invite to come along to a Venture.

Spread the word

Personal recommendation is the main reason people come on a Venture. Sharing your enthusiasm for, and experiences of, these holidays can make a vital contribution to what happens every summer. Just one conversation with a young person about Ventures could have an eternal impact on their lives! So, why stop there?

Talk to individuals

If there is a specific individual that you think would benefit from going on a Venture, or would be a brilliant leader, why not take them out for a coffee to chat about the opportunity one-to-one?

Talk to groups

Church services, small groups, and youth gatherings are great places to talk about Ventures. We can provide you with everything you need including our video, brochures, pens, postcards and posters.

The power of testimonies

Real testimonies can be so powerful. If you know someone that has been on a Venture, encourage them to share their experience with others. You could invite them to speak at a youth group/church meeting, or ask them to write about it and share it on your church website and social media.

Explore non-Christian avenues

Don't forget, Ventures are open to all faiths and none. Christian or not, they're a great opportunity for any 8-18 year old to enjoy a holiday packed full of activities, with time to relax and a chance to make long-lasting, life-enhancing friendships.

Don't be afraid to ask

If anyone has a question about Ventures that you can't answer, please don't hesitate to get in touch with the Ventures team or a Venture leader about the holidays. There are also plenty of FAQs in the brochure and on our website that you might find helpful.

Reminder

Don't forget to remind those people you've invested in about Ventures. People tend to book onto a holiday straight away, but it's easy to forget. The sooner people decide on a Venture, the better chance they have of booking onto their preferred holiday.
